A statement we make is forward-looking when it uses what we know and expect today to make a statement about the future. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by the words assumption, goal, guidance, objective, outlook, project, strategy, target and other similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as aim, anticipate, believe, could, expect, intend, may, plan, seek, should, strive and will. All such forward-looking statements are made pursuant to the 'safe harbour' provisions of applicable Canadian securities laws and of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

Unless otherwise indicated by us, forward-looking statements in this Annual Information Form describe our expectations as at March 6, 2014 and, accordingly, are subject to change after such date. Except as may be required by Canadian securities laws, we do not undertake any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Forward-looking statements, by their very nature, are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties and are based on several assumptions, both general and specific, which give rise to the possibility that actual results or events could differ materially from our expectations expressed in, or implied by, such forward-looking statements and that our business outlook, objectives, plans and strategic priorities may not be achieved. As a result, we cannot guarantee that any forward-looking statement will materialize and we caution you against relying on any of these forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are presented in this Annual Information Form for the purpose of assisting investors and others in understanding our objectives, strategic priorities and business outlook as well as our anticipated operating environment. Readers are cautioned, however, that such information may not be appropriate for other purposes.

Forward-looking statements made in this Annual Information Form are based on a number of assumptions that we believed were reasonable on March 6, 2014. These and other risk factors that could cause actual results or events to differ materially from our expectations expressed in, or implied by, our forward-looking statements are discussed throughout this Annual Information Form and the BCE 2013 MD&A and, in particular, in section 9, Business Risks of the BCE 2013 MD&A, at pages 92 to 98 of the BCE 2013 Annual Report.

We caution readers that the risks described above are not the only ones that could affect us. Except as otherwise indicated by us, forward-looking statements do not reflect the potential impact of any special items or of any dispositions, monetizations, mergers, acquisitions, other business combinations or other transactions that may be announced or that may occur after March 6, 2014. The financial impact of these transactions and special items can be complex and depends on the facts particular to each of them. We therefore cannot describe the expected impact in a meaningful way or in the same way we present known risks affecting our business.

3.2 STRATEGIC IMPERATIVES

Our goal is to be recognized by customers as Canada's leading communications company. Our primary business objectives are to maximize subscribers, revenues, operating profit, free cash flow and return on invested capital by further enhancing our position as the foremost provider in Canada of comprehensive communications services to residential and business customers.

Our strategy is centred on our disciplined focus and execution of the six strategic imperatives that support our goal to be recognized by customers as Canada's leading communications company, namely:

1. Accelerate Wireless
2. Leverage Wireline Momentum
3. Expand Media Leadership
4. Invest in Broadband Networks and Services
5. Achieve a Competitive Cost Structure
6. Improve Customer Service

Additional information regarding our strategic imperatives can be found in section 2, Bell's Strategic Imperatives of the BCE 2013 MD&A, at pages 37 to 40 of the BCE 2013 Annual Report.

3.3 COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

CANADA'S LARGEST COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY

We are Canada's largest communications company, offering a broad scope of products and services:

- We are the largest local exchange carrier in Canada. Bell operates an extensive local access network in the urban areas of Ontario and Québec, including in the greater metropolitan areas of Toronto and Montréal, the two most populous cities in the country. We offer a complete suite of wireline voice, wireless communication, Internet access, data and video product and service offerings to residential, business and wholesale customers
- Bell operated approximately 5.2 million network access service lines, primarily in the urban areas of Ontario and Québec, and continued to hold approximately 56% of the market share on a combined basis in those provinces at December 31, 2013
- At December 31, 2013, Bell was one of the largest wireless operators in Canada based on the number of subscribers, providing approximately 7.8 million subscribers with nationwide wireless service
- Bell is the largest digital TV provider in Canada, nationally broadcasting more than 600 all-digital TV and audio channels and a wide range of domestic and international programming to approximately 2.3 million subscribers at December 31, 2013 through its DTH satellite TV service and Fibe TV, its IPTV service
- Bell is the largest Internet service provider in Canada, providing approximately 2.2 million customers at December 31, 2013 with high-speed Internet access through fibre-optic, digital subscriber line (DSL) or wireless broadband technology
- Bell Aliant, the incumbent local exchange carrier in Atlantic Canada and rural areas of Ontario and Québec, operated approximately 2.4 million network access lines at December 31, 2013. It further provided high-speed Internet access to approximately one million customers and TV services to approximately 180,000 customers at December 31, 2013, in addition to providing wireless and other services to customers

Our large customer base and our ability to sell through a variety of distribution channels, as discussed in more detail under section 3.4, Marketing and Distribution Channels in this Annual Information Form, are key competitive advantages.

WIRELESS MOMENTUM

Our Bell Wireless segment provides wireless services over technologically advanced wireless networks that are available to virtually all of the Canadian population. We offer a broad range of wireless voice and data communications products and services to residential and business customers through our portfolio of targeted brands, including Bell and Virgin Mobile.

Wireless is a key growth segment for Bell and we have established strategic priorities seeking to further enhance our offerings. Bell is focused on maintaining its market share of incumbent wireless postpaid customer activations through growing its presence in higher average revenue per unit geographies and customer segments, increasing points of retail distribution, improving sales execution and customer retention, and increasing data service offerings. We also believe our priorities for improved customer experience at all touch points, enhanced network quality and performance, and a broad handset offering should continue to improve our ability to attract and retain wireless customers. With the launch of a national high-speed packet access plus network (HSPA+ network) in November 2009 and the launch, beginning in the second half of 2011, of fourth generation (4G) long-term evolution (LTE) wireless service in most urban centres across Canada (our 4G LTE wireless network reaching approximately 80% of the Canadian population as at December 31, 2013), we are able to offer one of the broadest ranges of choice in wireless smartphones in Canada, along with extensive North American and international coverage. The approximate 700 retail stores of our national electronics retailer subsidiary, The Source (Bell) Electronics Inc. (The Source), gives us an increased presence in Canada's highest-traffic mall locations and effectively increases the number of places where customers can buy Bell products and services. In addition, our products and services offered under the Virgin Mobile brand enhance our competitive market position by allowing us to compete more effectively with the Canadian industry's other flanker brands as well as the newer wireless entrants.

TECHNOLOGICALLY SUPERIOR TV SERVICE

In 2010, Bell unveiled its next generation IPTV service, Fibe TV, targeting urban areas in Ontario and Québec where cable providers had long been dominant, providing us with the opportunity to gain significant market share through offering a comprehensive triple-play bundle of communications services to customers. Delivered over our advanced high-speed fibre-optic network, Fibe TV expands TV choice and competition in major urban markets and offers a superior viewing and interactive online experience to that of cable.

Bell Fibe TV offers a wide range of flexible programming options and innovative features, including a whole-home personal video recorder (PVR), the ability to record multiple programs simultaneously, a picture-in-picture program guide, advanced search capabilities and the fastest channel change capability on the market today. In May 2013, Bell launched the new Fibe TV Wireless Receiver which enables customers to enjoy the Fibe experience on up to five additional TVs anywhere in the house without the hassle of running cable through the house. Now available to more than 4.3 million households in Québec and Ontario, Bell Fibe TV has quickly become a preferred TV option as we grew our Fibe TV subscriber base by 93% in 2013 to approximately 479,430 customers.

INCUMBENT WIRELINE SERVICE PROVIDER WITH MARKET LEADERSHIP POSITION

Our market leadership position and our broad suite of product offerings act as a foundation for the other products and services we offer, providing us with a significant number of established customer connections to drive uptake of new products and services, either through bundled offerings or on a stand-alone basis, and allowing us to improve customer retention. Bell Fibe TV is driving strong multi-product bundle sales as we continue to expand our service footprint in communities across Ontario and Québec. The number of triple-play households – those that buy Home Phone, TV and Internet services – increased 18% in 2013 due to the positive impact of Fibe TV.

Bell's Business Markets unit is also a consistent market-leading performer having established relationships with a majority of Canada's 1,000 largest corporations. Bell's Business Markets unit continues to deliver network-centric ICT solutions to large business and public sector clients, including data hosting and cloud computing services which are key to business communications in the new information age, that increase the value of connectivity services, helping drive overall performance for Bell.

OUR SIGNIFICANT MEDIA ASSETS

Our acquisition on April 1, 2011 of the remaining 85% interest in CTV Inc. (now Bell Media) that we did not already own provided us with significant media assets. In addition, our acquisition on July 5, 2013 of Astral provided our Bell Media segment with further media assets, namely eight pay and specialty TV channels, 77 radio stations, as well as digital media properties and Astral's out-of-home advertising business. Bell Media's range of video content enhances the execution of our strategic imperatives by leveraging our significant broadband network investments, accelerating Bell's video growth across all four screens, and achieving a competitive cost structure. Ownership of Bell Media enables Bell to maximize strategic and operating synergies with Bell Media, including the efficiency of our content and advertising spend.

Through Bell Media, our key competitive advantage is our position as the leading multimedia company in Canada with the following assets in TV, radio, digital and out-of-home advertising:

- We own and operate 30 conventional TV stations, including CTV, Canada's leading TV network based on viewership
- We own and operate 40 specialty, pay and pay-per-view TV channels, including TSN, Canada's most watched specialty sports channel and RDS, Canada's #1 French-language specialty sports channel also based on viewership
- Led by programs like The Big Bang Theory and The Amazing Race Canada, CTV has consistently held the majority of Canada's Top 20 most-watched programs nationally in all key demographics
- At December 31, 2013, our 107 radio stations in 55 markets across Canada reached on average per week 17.5 million listeners from coast to coast
- We own and operate the most successful Canadian-owned online business in the Canadian digital landscape. At December 31, 2013, we ranked third to Google (which includes YouTube) and Facebook for video views, third in time spent viewing video, and eighth in unique visitors among all online properties in Canada, ahead of any Canadian-owned competitor
- We provide live and on-demand access to content from Bell Media's conventional TV networks, CTV and CTV Two, as well as real-time access to BNN, TSN, RDS, MTV and other top brands in news, sports and entertainment on Bell's Mobile TV service. This mobile content is offered on commercial terms to all Canadian wireless providers. Bell Media's TV Everywhere services, including TMN GO and CTV GO, provide live and on-demand content delivered over mobile and Wi-Fi networks to smartphones, tablets and computers
- Bell Media owns Astral Out-of-Home, an out-of-home advertising business with a network of more than 9,500 advertising faces strategically located in the key markets of Québec, Ontario and British Columbia. It offers a portfolio of four innovative product lines: outdoor advertising, street furniture, transportation and digital

In addition to our industry leading position, our competitive strengths include our broad reach across Canada, our ability to acquire top programming for conventional, specialty and pay TV, our constant drive to provide the most engaging and interactive experience for viewers, and our ability to serve the needs of advertisers across multiple platforms.

3.4 MARKETING AND DISTRIBUTION CHANNELS

BELL WIRELINE AND WIRELESS

The guiding principle driving our marketing strategy is to offer our clients the ultimate in reliable, simple and accessible telecommunications services. In doing so, our objective is to increase customer acquisition, retention and loyalty through multiple service offerings.

Through the Bell Bundle, which combines wireline local voice and long distance, high-speed Internet and TV, as well as wireless services, our goal is to use a triple-play or quadruple-play product offering to achieve competitive differentiation by offering a premium, integrated set of services that provides customers more freedom, flexibility and choice. We also make use of limited-time promotional offers featuring discounted rate plans, special rates on wireless handsets and TV receivers, as well as other incentives, to stimulate customer acquisition and winbacks or to respond to competitive pressures in our markets.

We focus our marketing efforts on a coordinated program of TV, print, radio, Internet, outdoor signage, direct mail and point-of-sale media promotions. We engage in mass-market advertising in order to maintain our brand and support direct and indirect distribution channels. Coordinated marketing efforts throughout our service area ensure that our marketing message is presented consistently across all of our markets. Promoting the Bell brand is complemented by our other brand marketing efforts, reinforcing the awareness of all our services and capitalizing on the size and breadth of our customer base across all product lines.

The Bell brand plays a key role in product positioning. Our branding is straightforward and directly supports our strategy of delivering a better customer experience at every level.

Specifically for wireless, acquiring and retaining high-value postpaid subscribers is a key marketing objective that we seek to achieve through our networks and suite of leading-edge devices and services to drive higher usage and increased adoption of data services. We offer discounts on the price of wireless handsets in exchange for a contractual commitment from a subscriber – a practice also used by other Canadian wireless operators. Research has shown that a key driver of customer acquisition is handset selection and style. This factor is increasingly important as handset life cycles shorten. Our current wireless device portfolio includes many leading-edge devices, some launched as exclusive to Bell in the Canadian market. As the Canadian wireless market further matures and competition intensifies including as a result of Industry Canada's licensing of advanced wireless services (AWS) spectrum to new entrants in 2008 and mobile broadband services (700 megahertz (MHz)) spectrum in 2014, customer retention is becoming increasingly important. Accordingly, we employ customer retention initiatives aimed at increasing our customers' level of satisfaction and loyalty.

Bell delivers its products and services to residential customers through:

- a network of corporate and dealer-owned Bell, Bell Mobility and Virgin Mobile retail locations
- The Source's approximately 700 retail locations
- national retailers such as Future Shop, Best Buy, Wal-Mart, Wireless Wave, Tbooth Wireless, Wireless Etc., Loblaws and a network of regional and independent retailers in all regions
- call centre representatives
- the Bell.ca and virginmobile.ca websites

Bell also offers customers the convenience of "One Bill" for Home Phone, Internet, TV and wireless services with a single point of contact.

Communication solutions, other than wireless, for small, mid-sized and large business customers are delivered by the Bell Business Markets unit. Our products and services are sold through dedicated sales representatives, call centres and certified resellers. By combining products and services, including professional services, into fully managed, end-to-end information and technology solutions, we have been successful in procuring small business customers with simple yet reliable services and large enterprise customers with complex communication requirements. We continue to differentiate ourselves in the marketplace by enhancing our customer service levels and providing solutions designed with superior service, performance, availability, and security. We deliver expertise in key solution areas, including: Internet, private networks and broadcast, voice and unified communications, data centre, customer contact solutions, security, mobile business services, and small business solutions. The Bell Business Markets unit is focused on increasing both the number of customers and the breadth of business solutions sold to these customers.

Bell's wireless products and services are delivered to business customers by Bell Mobility through the same channels as those previously described for services with respect to residential customers. In addition, Bell's business customers are served by Bell's nationwide sales team responsible for the sale of wireless products and services to business customers as well as the execution of sales contracts.

Communications products and services for Bell's wholesale business are delivered by Bell's Wholesale unit. They are sold through our dedicated sales representatives, web portals and call centres.

BELL MEDIA

Bell Media's TV and Out-of-Home customer base is comprised primarily of large advertising agencies, which place advertisements with Bell Media on behalf of their customers. Bell Media also has contracts with a variety of broadcasting distribution undertakings (BDUs), under which monthly subscription fees for specialty and pay TV services are earned. Bell Media's radio broadcast customer base is comprised of both advertising agencies and businesses in local markets.

Bell Media's conventional TV networks are delivered to Canadians through over-the-air broadcast transmission and through distribution by BDUs. Bell Media's specialty and pay TV channels are delivered through distribution arrangements with BDUs, and its radio programming is distributed through over-the-air transmission. In addition to these primary distribution channels, Bell Media distributes certain of its TV and radio programming through a variety of non-traditional means, such as mobile, Internet streaming and in-flight programming. Finally, Bell Media's Out-of-Home business delivers its services through an inventory of out-of-home faces and street furniture equipment in the key markets of Québec, Ontario and British Columbia.

BELL ALIANT

Bell Aliant sells its products and services through call centre representatives, independent dealer stores (certain of which are full service and certain of which sell small and mid-sized business products), value-added resellers, door-to-door sales representatives and its family of websites. In addition to these channels, Bell Aliant sells products and services to larger business customers through dedicated sales representatives and competitive bids. As well, Bell Aliant facilitates customer payments at numerous payment locations across its operating territories. During 2013, Bell Aliant continued to implement measures to simplify and improve various types of customer interactions, including self-serve mechanisms.

3.5 NETWORKS

The telecommunications industry is evolving rapidly as the industry continues to move from multiple service-specific networks to IP-based integrated communications networks that can carry voice, data and video traffic. Bell and Bell Aliant continue to work with key vendor partners to expand their national multi-services IP-enabled networks.

Our communications networks provide wireline and wireless voice, data and video services to customers across Canada. Our infrastructure includes:

- national transport networks for voice, data and video traffic, including Internet traffic
- urban and rural access networks and infrastructure for delivering services to customers
- national wireless networks that provide voice, data and video services

WIRELINE

VOICE AND DATA NETWORK

Our national voice and data network consists of an optical fibre network, with built-in redundancy and fault protection. It reaches all major Canadian metropolitan centres, as well as New York, Chicago, Boston, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Ashburn and Seattle in the United States.

Our network in major Canadian cities provides state-of-the-art high-speed access at gigabit speeds based on IP technology. Bell and Bell Aliant operate a national IP multi-protocol label switching network with international gateways to the rest of the world. This network delivers next-generation, business grade IP virtual private network (IPVPN) services that connect our customers' offices and data centres throughout Canada and around the world. The IPVPN service is the foundation platform required for the delivery of ICT solutions that add value and efficiencies to customers' businesses. These technology solutions include voice over IP/IP Telephony, IP videoconferencing, IP call centre applications and other future

IP-based applications. In addition, Bell and Bell Aliant maintain extensive copper and voice-switching networks that provide traditional local and interexchange voice and data services to all business and residential customers in Ontario, Québec and the Atlantic provinces.

To improve reliability and to increase network capacity to support rapidly growing volumes of wireless and Internet usage carried on our networks, in 2012, we began the upgrade of our fibre-based national backbone network with the deployment of 100 gigabit technologies. As of December 31, 2013, key traffic routes spanning more than 7,800 kilometers across Canada had been upgraded. Bell was the first Canadian carrier to deploy 100 gigabit IP Wide Area Network technologies.

HIGH-SPEED FIBRE DEPLOYMENT

As discussed in more detail below, our strategic imperative to invest in broadband networks and services is focused on the deployment of high-speed fibre access through our FTTN, FTTB and FTTH (as such terms are defined below) initiatives.

First, Bell has been upgrading its access infrastructure by deploying fibre closer to its residential customers using fibre-to-the-node (FTTN) along with pair bonding technology. Second, Bell has been deploying high-speed fibre access directly to multiple-dwelling units (MDUs) and key business locations and data centres, throughout the Québec-Windsor corridor, under a fibre-to-the-building (FTTB) initiative. Third, Bell has started and plans to continue deploying high-speed fibre-to-the-home (FTTH) technology in Ontario and Québec as follows.

One of the first FTTH deployments in Canada, Bell's Québec City region initiative is the largest city-wide FTTH roll-out in the country to-date. In our view, FTTH, in which optical fibre cables are used to connect each and every home, is an ideal network architecture to support future bandwidth-demanding IP services and applications. Since the Québec City region is served largely by "aerial" infrastructure, above-ground wiring on utility poles, these extensive fibre deployments can be accomplished much faster and more economically than in centres with underground infrastructure. With an investment of more than $225 million to deploy fibre optic technology directly to homes and businesses, we launched our next-generation Fibe service in Québec City on March 12, 2012, supporting enhanced competition and choice in the Québec market with the latest broadband TV, Internet and Home Phone services.

Bell also continued to deploy FTTH to all new urban and suburban housing developments in Ontario and Québec and began the implementation of pair bonding, which effectively increases the FTTN network download speeds and extends the Fibe TV footprint. This is in addition to Bell Canada's ongoing deployment of FTTB to MDUs and business locations.

Our residential fibre-optic Internet service, marketed as Bell Fibe Internet, is enabled by Bell's FTTN and FTTH networks, providing download speeds of up to 50 megabits per second (Mbps) in areas of Ontario and Québec that are served by our FTTN network, and up to 175 Mbps for customers with FTTH. Fibe Internet also employs advanced tools to proactively monitor and optimize speeds. We also offer DSL-based Internet service in areas where Fibe Internet is not available, with download speeds of up to 5 Mbps.

Additionally, Bell launched in September 2010 its Bell Fibe TV service in several Toronto and Montréal neighbourhoods. Since that time, Bell has significantly expanded its Fibe TV service footprint, which, at December 31, 2013, encompassed more than 4.3 million households across the Greater Montréal Region, the Greater Toronto Area, Québec City, Sherbrooke, Ottawa, Laval, Kitchener-Waterloo, London, St. Catharines, Barrie and Hamilton. Delivered over our advanced high-speed fibre-optic network, Fibe TV complements our national TV satellite service and expands TV choice and competition in major urban markets where cable has dominated. Bell Fibe TV offers a wide range of flexible programming options and innovative features, including a whole-home PVR, the ability to record multiple programs simultaneously, a picture-in-picture program guide, advanced search capabilities, and the fastest channel change capability on the market today. In May 2013, Bell launched the new Fibe TV Wireless Receiver, which enables customers to enjoy the Fibe experience on up to five additional TVs anywhere in the house without the hassle of running cable through the house.

Since 2010, Bell Aliant has been deploying FTTH and FTTB technology in various locations in Atlantic Canada and several communities in northern Ontario. FTTH has brought an advanced broadband network using 100% fibre-optic technology directly to homes and businesses in those locations and has allowed Bell Aliant to deliver its new "FibreOP" branded Internet and TV service. The largely aerial nature of Bell Aliant's network infrastructure and the relatively low population densities in Atlantic Canada and rural Ontario and Québec makes the cost of FTTN and FTTH/FTTB very similar in those markets.

In 2011, Bell Aliant launched its next generation of Internet and TV service with FibreOP 2.0. FibreOP 2.0 introduces more speed and functionality to customers for the same price. FibreOP 2.0 TV also provides enhanced functions and features for TV. Bell Aliant also launched FibreOp Home Phone in 2011, enabling it to deliver an entirely IP-enabled bundle of service (voice, Internet, TV) over its FTTH network.

In 2012, Bell Aliant launched FibreOp Business 50/30 service, providing small and medium business customers with up to 50 Mbps download and 30 Mbps upload Internet speeds over its FTTB technology, representing double the upload speed of its previous fastest Internet service offering. In addition, Bell Aliant upgraded its residential FibreOP Internet to reach 250 Mbps download Internet speed, to maintain the speed advantage it has over its competitors.

In 2013, Bell Aliant provided its existing residential customers a boost in the available speed of its FibreOP Internet tiers, which now ranges from 50 Mbps to 250 Mbps for download Internet speeds, with 30 Mbps upload Internet speeds.

As of the end of 2013, Bell Aliant's FibreOP services were available to 806,000 homes and businesses in Atlantic Canada and Ontario, while Bell Aliant's high-speed Internet service was available to over 85% of homes in Bell Aliant's operating territory.

Our plans to upgrade and/or deploy optical fibre networks assume, in particular, that consents required by us in order to install network equipment on municipal and private property will be issued on a timely basis. The failure by municipalities or private land owners to issue such consents, or to issue such consents in accordance with our schedules, could result in our inability to upgrade and/or deploy optical fibre networks in certain areas or in significant delays in our pace of upgrade and/or deployment.

BELL DTH SATELLITE TV SERVICE

We provide DTH satellite TV service nationwide under the Bell TV brand using satellites operated by Telesat Canada (Telesat). Pursuant to a set of commercial arrangements between Bell ExpressVu Limited Partnership (Bell ExpressVu) and Telesat, Bell ExpressVu currently has two satellites under contract with Telesat. Telesat operates or directs the operation of these satellites, which are used by Bell ExpressVu to provide its DTH satellite TV service.

WIRELESS

To provide wireless connectivity, Bell has deployed and operates a number of nationwide wireless broadband networks compatible with global standards that deliver high-quality and reliable voice and high-speed data services. With our multiple high-speed data networks, we are able to offer Canadian consumers a broad range of choice in wireless smartphones, including devices from Apple, Samsung, Sony, HTC and BlackBerry, touch screen tablets and other devices designed for data services such as machine to machine (M2M) communications, e-mail, messaging, Internet access and social networking.

HSPA+ NETWORK

Our wireless HSPA+ network, launched in November 2009, offered high-speed mobile access to 98% of the Canadian population at December 31, 2013, and covered thousands of cities and towns in both urban and rural locations. The HSPA+ network supports global roaming, as well as a wide range of smartphones, data cards, universal serial bus (USB) sticks, tablets and other leading-edge mobile devices. Our HSPA+ network also supports international roaming in more than 200 countries. The vast majority of the site connectivity for the new HSPA+ network was built with high-speed fibre and an all-IP architecture for enhanced reliability. In November 2010, Bell became the first wireless company in North America to deploy leading-edge dual carrier (DC) technology, which doubles the speed of HSPA+ mobile data service from up to 21 Mbps to as high as 42 Mbps when using DC capable modem devices or smartphones (typical speeds of 7 to 14 Mbps).

4G LTE NETWORK

Bell launched a 4G LTE network in September 2011. With Bell's LTE wireless network coverage, customers have data access speeds similar to broadband connections and significantly faster than our HSPA+ network, making it easier for users to download applications, stream high-definition videos and music, play on-line games or video conference and chat with virtually no delays or buffering. Our LTE wireless network reached over 28 million Canadians, or approximately 80% of the Canadian population, coast-to-coast in 9 provinces and 2 territories at December 31, 2013. We focused on an urban roll-out first, given that the timing of broader rural and remote coverage deployments was contingent on the outcome of Industry Canada's 700 MHz spectrum auction. The auction began on January 14, 2014 and provisional spectrum licence winners were announced on February 19, 2014. As a result of successfully securing the right to acquire significant 700 MHz spectrum assets in every provincial and territorial market, Bell plans to expand its LTE network to rural communities, small towns and Canada's North, as well as enhance its urban and suburban LTE coverage. LTE currently accounts for approximately one-quarter of Bell's total wireless data traffic.

The HSPA+/LTE networks work together in that all Bell LTE devices support both networks. In fact, voice calls initiated when a LTE device is attached to a LTE network are transferred to the HSPA+ network for processing. In rural regions outside of the current LTE footprint, data calls/sessions are handed off to the HSPA+ network ensuring a continuity of service for our customers.

3G/CDMA NETWORK

In addition to our LTE and HSPA+ networks, we operate a national 3G code division multiple access (CDMA) evolution, data optimized (EVDO) network that covered 99% of Ontario's and Québec's populations and approximately 97% of Atlantic Canada's population at December 31, 2013. Our CDMA network also covers major cities in the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia. Bell plans to continue operating its CDMA network for the foreseeable future.

The CDMA network shares sites, towers and antennae with the HSPA+ and LTE networks. As most of our development and network enhancement focus has been on the HSPA+/LTE networks, traffic is migrating off our CDMA network. Although some of our network partners plan to turn down EVDO service over the course of 2014, all devices will operate nationally on the remaining CDMA network. CDMA terminals operate independently from the HSPA+/LTE networks.

WI-FI LOCATIONS

Bell Mobility also operates over 4,000 public Wi-Fi hotspots at participating McDonald's, Tim Hortons and Chapters/Indigo retail outlets across Canada, in addition to thousands of Wi-Fi networks managed through our Bell Business Markets unit at enterprise customer locations.

3.6 EMPLOYEES

The table below shows the number of BCE employees as at December 31, 2013 and 2012.

NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES AT DECEMBER 31	2013	2012
Bell Wireline segment	35,313	35,940

(1) The total number of BCE employees at the end of 2013 was 55,830, up from 55,500 at December 31, 2012, due primarily to the integration of 2,100 Astral employees. This increase was partly offset by a decreased workforce across our Bell Wireline, Bell Wireless and Bell Aliant segments attributable mainly to normal attrition, retirements and productivity improvements.

Approximately 44% of BCE employees are represented by unions and are covered by collective agreements.

The following collective agreements covering 100 or more employees were ratified in 2013:

- the collective agreement between the Communications, Energy and Paperworkers Union of Canada (CEP) and Bell Aliant covering approximately 135 clerical employees in Ontario and Québec expired on May 31, 2012. - the collective agreement between Unifor and Bell Canada covering approximately 750 sales employees expired on December 31, 2013. A new collective agreement was ratified on December 20, 2013

The following collective agreements covering 100 or more employees will expire in 2014:

- the collective agreement between Unifor and CTV Specialty Television Inc. covering approximately 650 sales employees will expire on May 31, 2014

3.7 CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY

GENERAL

We are committed to the highest standards of corporate responsibility and we seek to integrate environmental, social and economic considerations into our business decisions. We engage with stakeholders to identify opportunities to create benefits for both society and us while minimizing, where we can, any negative impact our activities may generate. In line with this commitment, in 2006, we adopted a resolution to support the United Nations Global Compact, a set of universal principles addressing human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption. These principles serve as the foundation of our corporate responsibility approach since then.

In 1992, the BCE board of directors mandated an officer level committee to oversee issues related to environmental matters. Over the decades the responsibilities for this committee have expanded and, since 2012, BCE's corporate responsibility strategy, including security, environmental and health and safety (SEHS) risks and opportunities, is overseen by the Security, Environmental and Health & Safety Oversight Committee. This committee is chaired by the Executive Vice-President, Corporate Services. This cross-functional committee seeks to ensure that relevant risks are adequately recognized and mitigation activities are well integrated and aligned across the organization and supported with sufficient resources.

BCE has implemented a range of social and environmental policies which are supported by various programs and initiatives. These policies address issues of importance to our many stakeholders including: preventing conflicts of interest; protecting company assets; safeguarding privacy and confidentiality; treating clients, business partners, team members and competitors with respect and honesty; fostering a diverse and safe workplace; and protecting the environment.

The policies include among others:

- Code of Business Conduct
- Privacy Policy
- Environmental Policy
- Supplier Code of Conduct
- Procurement Policy
- Political Contributions Policy
- Mandatory Reporting of Internet Child Pornography
- Health and Safety Policy

In 2013, the BCE board of directors was recognized by the Canadian Coalition for Good Governance, receiving the organization's Gavel Award for best corporate governance disclosure, which underscores the importance of effective communications between corporations and their shareholders. The Canadian Society of Corporate Secretaries also named BCE the winner of its first-ever award for best overall corporate governance, recognizing our long history of best practices in building and sustaining shareholder and stakeholder value. In addition, BCE received the Best Overall Corporate Governance Award – International at the Corporate Secretary Corporate Governance Awards in New York. These achievements recognize the expertise and guidance provided by the BCE board of directors, and the hard work and dedication of the full BCE team in ensuring rigorous governance of our company's operations.

For 2013, BCE was listed on the 50 Most Socially Responsible Corporations by Maclean's, and on the Best 50 Corporate Citizens in Canada and the Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations In the World by Corporate Knights. BCE is part of socially responsible investment indices such as the FTSE4Good Index, the Jantzi Social Index, and the STOXX Global ESG Leaders Index, and was selected for inclusion in the United Nations Global Compact 100 (GC 100), a new global stock index that combines corporate sustainability and financial performance. BCE was also identified as a Prime Responsible Social and Environmental investment by oekom research, has been selected for inclusion in the Ethibel EXCELLENCE Investment Register, and has also been included in the Storebrand Trippel Smart/SPP Global Top 100 sustainable global equity fund.

Bell Canada recognizes that risks and opportunities exist related to climate change. Our membership in the Global e-Sustainability Initiative (gesi.org), an international organization that promotes sustainable development in the ICT industry, helps us to gain a deeper understanding of these risks and opportunities. Part of our involvement includes promoting ICT as a solution to mitigate and adapt to climate change, for example, by enabling travel substitution, virtualization, dematerialization, and cloud computing. Monitoring and reducing energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions are also key priorities at Bell Canada because of their impacts on the environment, society, and the economy. We also recognize that being a responsible service provider means having best practices in business continuity and being prepared to face extreme weather events that could be exacerbated by climate change. We report on our carbon footprint and carbon reduction initiatives through the CDP. The CDP represents 767 institutional investors holding US$ 92 trillion in assets. The CDP gathers data from organizations globally to help reveal the risk in the investment portfolios of these institutional investors. BCE was listed on the CDP's Canada 200 Climate Disclosure Leadership Index for 2013.

In addition, we consider the exploitation and trade of minerals that fuel armed conflicts and lead to human rights abuses as unacceptable. We monitor and integrate industry best practices into our procurement programs on a continuing basis as controls for conflict free sourcing are being established globally.

Details on the performance of our programs and initiatives can be found under the heading Responsibility on BCE's website at BCE.ca.

COMMUNITY

Bell Canada is committed to advancing mental health across Canada through the Bell Let's Talk mental health initiative. Mental illness affects millions of Canadians yet this major health issue remains significantly underfunded, misunderstood and stigmatized. With 1 in 5 Canadians expected to suffer from mental illness during their lifetimes, everyone has a family member, friend or colleague who has struggled with mental illness. The impact on the Canadian economy is staggering with an estimated $51 billion each year in lost productivity and approximately 500,000 Canadians absent from work each day due to mental health issues.

On September 21, 2010, Bell Canada announced its five-year, $50 million initiative supporting an extensive range of programs to enhance mental health in every aspect of Canadian life. The Bell Let's Talk mental health initiative has 4 action pillars: anti-stigma, enhanced care and access, new research and workplace leadership. This initiative is the largest-ever corporate effort to promote mental health in Canada.

During 2013, Bell made new commitments within the program to several initiatives, including to the Jewish General Hospital Foundation and True Patriot Love Foundation. Bell's Let's Talk partners also include the Royal Ottawa Hospital, l'Institut universitaire en santé mentale de Montréal, Hôpital Charles-LeMoyné, the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health, the University of British Columbia, the Douglas Mental Health University Institute, Queen's University, La Fondation du Centre hospitalier universitaire de Québec, Concordia University, and Brain Canada. In 2013, the Bell Let's Talk Community Fund gave $1 million in grants to 53 community-based organizations, charities and hospitals across the country. Through the Bell Let's Talk Community Fund, organizations, social services, agencies and hospitals across the country can apply for grants of up to $50,000 for community-based mental health initiatives.

In April 2013, Bell announced Clara's Big Ride for Bell Let's Talk, a 110-day national bicycle tour by Clara Hughes to help raise awareness and action in mental health and reduce stigma around mental illness. Clara's Big Ride will span more than 12,000 kilometers, and will begin on March 14, 2014, visiting 95 communities in every province and territory of Canada.

In October 2013, Bell was honoured with a Canada Award of Excellence in recognition of Bell's workplace mental health program. The Silver Award for Mental Health at Work – the highest ever awarded by Excellence Canada – recognizes Bell's exemplary commitment to workplace mental health as part of the Bell Let's Talk initiative.

Because the challenge of stigma remains the primary reason an estimated two-thirds of people with mental health problems do not receive the help they need, Bell continues to invite Canadians to talk about the issue. The fourth annual Bell Let's Talk Day on January 28, 2014, led by national spokesperson Clara Hughes, worked to promote discussion and understanding of mental illness while raising new funds for Canadian mental health. With 109,451,718 text messages, mobile calls and long distance calls by Bell Canada and Bell Aliant customers, tweets and Facebook shares made that day, Bell's 5-cent donation per text, call, tweet and Facebook share meant that it committed another $5,472,585 to support mental health programs across the country. Bell has now committed $67,515,875.20 to Canadian mental health based on its original $50-million initiative plus the result of the last four Bell Let's Talk Days.

To learn more, please visit letstalk.bell.ca.

Between mental health and their other initiatives, Bell Canada and Bell Aliant contributed over $17 million in community investment in 2013. Bell Canada and Bell Aliant employees and pensioners also donated over $2.6 million in charitable gifts and logged over 324,700 hours in volunteer time.

ENVIRONMENT

BCE's environmental policy affirms:

- our commitment to environmental protection
- our belief that environmental protection is an integral part of doing business, and needs to be managed systematically under a continuous improvement process

The policy is reviewed annually and contains principles that support our goals, varying from exercising due diligence to meet or exceed the environmental legislation that applies to us, to preventing pollution and promoting cost-effective initiatives that minimize resources and waste. For example, Bell Canada's in-house stewardship program ensures our customers have access to a responsible means to dispose of electronic waste. This is complemented by supporting provincial industry-led stewardship programs across the country.

We have instructed subsidiaries subject to this policy to support these principles, and have established a management-level committee to oversee the implementation of the policy.

Bell Canada monitors its operations to seek to ensure that it complies with environmental requirements and standards, and takes action seeking to prevent and correct problems, when needed. It has an environmental management and review system in place, that:

- provides early warning of potential problems
- identifies management accountability
- enables systematic environmental risks and opportunities management, including cost savings
- establishes a course of action
- ensures ongoing improvement through regular monitoring and reporting

In 2009, Bell Canada obtained the ISO 14001 certification for its environmental management system (Registration number: EMS 545955). Bell Canada is the only telecommunications company in Canada to have obtained this certification. The certification covers Bell Canada's landline, wireless, TV and Internet business sectors in addition to related administrative functions. Bell Canada has maintained the certification for the first three-year cycle and was recertified in 2012 for another three-year cycle. Since 2010, 41 buildings leased or owned by Bell Canada across the country have been certified BOMA BEST. In addition, our Montréal campus is certified LEED NC, our Mississauga campus expansion is certified LEED NC Silver, our newly constructed data center in the Gatineau area is certified LEED NC Gold and the Bell Trinity Square Building in Toronto is certified LEED EB Gold.

One of Bell Canada's key tools is the Corporate Environmental Action Plan, which outlines the environmental activities of Bell Canada's various business units. The Plan identifies funding requirements, accountabilities and deliverables, and monitors Bell Canada's progress in meeting its objectives.

For the year ended December 31, 2013, Bell Canada spent $26 million on environmental activities, 55% of which was expensed and 45% of which was for capital expenditures. For 2014, Bell Canada has budgeted $22.7 million (61% for expenses and 39% for capital expenditures) to seek to ensure that its environmental policy is applied properly and its environmental risks are minimized.

Bell Aliant also has a comprehensive environmental policy that affirms its goal to work to create a sustainable future by integrating long-term economic, environmental and social considerations into the way the business is operated. The policy provides for the identification of activities and situations which may have potential to harm the environment, and the implementation of environmentally positive practices and preventive measures. Bell Aliant's program seeks to ensure that it complies with all environmental regulatory requirements and that its activities are carried out in a manner that minimizes risk to the environment through a continuous improvement process.

Bell Aliant manages its environmental program through processes similar to those employed by Bell Canada, and collaborates on many levels to seek harmonization with Bell Canada's environmental program.

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF OUR BUSINESS – THREE-YEAR HISTORY

In line with our strategic imperatives described under section 3.2, Strategic Imperatives in this Annual Information Form, during the last three completed financial years we have entered, or proposed to enter, into transactions and implemented various corporate initiatives that have influenced the general development of our business. Our regulatory environment has also influenced the general development of our business during this three-year period. These principal transactions and corporate initiatives and effects of our regulatory environment are discussed below.

4.1 TRANSACTIONS

ACQUISITION OF ASTRAL

On July 5, 2013, BCE acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of Astral for a cash consideration of $2,876 million and the repayment of $397 million of debt. Astral was a media company that operated specialty and pay TV channels, radio stations and digital media properties across Canada, and provided out-of-home advertising services. We acquired Astral to enhance our competitive position in French-language broadcasting in Québec, control content costs, and increase opportunities for cross-platform innovation and advertising packages spanning digital, TV, radio and out-of-home advertising.

In order to approve the transaction, the Competition Bureau and the Canadian Radio-television Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) required the divestiture by BCE of eleven Astral TV assets and ten Astral and Bell Media English-language radio stations. BCE retained eight Astral TV services: the French-language SuperÉcran, CinéPop, Canal Vie, Canal D, VRAK TV and Z Télé, and English-language services The Movie Network, which includes HBO Canada, and TMN Encore. BCE also retained 77 Astral radio stations and Astral's national out-of-home advertising business. As a result of the transaction, Bell Media now owns 30 local TV stations, 39 specialty and pay channels, and 107 radio stations, excluding the TV assets and radio stations to be divested.

In January 2014, Bell completed the sale of Astral's share of six TV services (the bilingual Teletoon/Télétoon service, English-language Teletoon Retro and Cartoon Network (Canada) and French-language Télétoon Rétro, Historia and Séries+) and two radio stations in Ottawa (CKQB-FM and CJOT-FM) to Corus Entertainment Inc. as part of the divestiture process required by the CRTC and the Competition Bureau. Bell also completed the sale of two Winnipeg radio stations (CHIQ-FM and CFQX-FM) and one Calgary radio station (CKCE-FM) to Jim Pattison Broadcast Group. In addition, as a result of distinct auction processes, Bell has announced the following proposed transactions to sell each of the remaining five Astral TV assets and five radio stations required to be divested by the CRTC and, as applicable, the Competition Bureau:

- on August 26, 2013, Bell reached an agreement with Newcap Inc. for the sale of two Toronto radio stations (CHBM-FM and CFXJ-FM) and three Vancouver radio stations (CKZZ-FM, CHHR-FM and CISL-AM)
- on November 28, 2013, Bell reached an agreement with DHX Media Ltd. for the sale of the following television services: Family (including Disney Junior English), Disney XD and Disney Junior French services
- on December 3, 2013, Bell reached an agreement with V Media Group for the sale of the two remaining TV services, MusiquePlus and MusiMax

Completion of these divestitures is subject to closing conditions, termination rights and other risks and uncertainties including, without limitation, approval by the CRTC. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the proposed sale transactions will occur, or that they will occur on the terms and conditions currently contemplated, and such proposed sale transactions could be modified, restructured or terminated. As required by the CRTC and the Competition Bureau, the management and control of the assets to be sold were transferred to an independent trustee until completion of their respective divestiture processes.

KEY COMPLETED TRANSACTIONS

In addition to the aforementioned acquisition of Astral and divestitures of certain TV assets and radio stations, in line with our strategic imperatives, we have concluded certain transactions from 2011 to 2013 that have influenced the general development of our business. 4.2 CORPORATE INITIATIVES

UPGRADE AND EXPANSION OF OUR BROADBAND NETWORKS

One of our key objectives in the last three financial years has been investing in our broadband networks and services to enhance our competitive position and promote future growth opportunities. During this period, we have upgraded our access infrastructure by deploying fibre optic technology closer to our customers which led to the launch and subsequent expansion of our Bell Fibe Internet and Bell Fibe TV services. During this period, we have also made substantial investments in our wireless networks which led to the launch and subsequent expansion of our 4G LTE wireless network. Refer to section 3.5, Networks in this Annual Information Form for a detailed description of developments relating to our wireline and wireless networks during the three-year period ending on December 31, 2013.

EXPANDING MEDIA LEADERSHIP

Upon the acquisition of CTV on April 1, 2011, BCE launched Bell Media, a new business segment encompassing all CTV properties, namely conventional TV, specialty TV, radio broadcasting and digital media, as well as other Bell content assets. The formation of Bell Media resulted in the creation of a new Bell strategic imperative, namely to expand media leadership. In furtherance of this imperative, we seek to continue to deliver leading sports, news, entertainment and business content across multiple broadband platforms, namely TV, Internet, smartphones and tablets. Our objective is to grow audiences, introduce new services and create new revenue streams for our media assets, and to create more of our own content. Since April 2011, we continued to make progress in expanding media leadership, including, as previously discussed, by acquiring Astral which provided us with further media assets. Refer to section 2.3, Expand Media Leadership set out in the BCE 2013 MD&A contained in the BCE 2013 Annual Report for a discussion of media initiatives that we have implemented in the financial year ended December 31, 2013. Refer to the section entitled Strategic Imperatives – Expand Media Leadership set out in the BCE 2011 MD&A and the BCE 2012 MD&A contained in BCE's annual reports for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012, respectively, for more details concerning the media initiatives that we have implemented during the two-year period ending on December 31, 2012.

ENHANCING CUSTOMER SERVICE

Our strategic priorities require that we constantly focus on delivering an improved customer experience while at the same time seek to increase efficiency and reduce costs. During the last three financial years, we continued to make progress in enhancing the customer experience through ongoing investments in new service systems and improved processes. Refer to section 2.6, Improve Customer Service set out in the BCE 2013 MD&A contained in the BCE 2013 Annual Report for a discussion of customer service improvement initiatives that we have implemented in the financial year ended December 31, 2013. Refer to the section entitled Strategic Imperatives – Improve Customer Service set out in the BCE 2011 MD&A and the BCE 2012 MD&A contained in BCE's annual reports for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012, respectively, for more details concerning customer service improvement initiatives that we have implemented during the two-year period ending on December 31, 2012.

4.3 REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

During the last three financial years, the general development of our business has been affected by decisions made by the Government of Canada and its relevant departments and agencies, including the CRTC, Industry Canada and the Competition Bureau. Although most of our wireline and wireless services are forborne from price regulation under the Telecommunications Act, the federal government and the above departments and agencies continue to play a significant role in telecommunications policy and regulatory matters such as spectrum auctions, approval of acquisitions, foreign ownership and broadcasting. The federal government has recently significantly increased its focus on consumer protection, especially in the wireless sector, and has adopted more stringent regulations. This increased focus on consumer protection is evidenced by the adoption by the CRTC, in 2013, of a new mandatory wireless code of conduct, for providers of retail mobile wireless voice and data services, which could decrease our flexibility in the marketplace. The federal government may take positions against the telecommunications and media industries, in general, or specifically against Bell Canada or certain of its subsidiaries. Refer to section 8, Regulatory Environment set out in the BCE 2013 MD&A contained in the BCE 2013 Annual Report for a discussion of the regulatory initiatives and proceedings that have influenced the general development of our business in the financial year ending on December 31, 2013. Refer to the section entitled Our Regulatory Environment set out in the BCE 2011 MD&A and the BCE 2012 MD&A contained in BCE's annual reports for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012, respectively, for a discussion of the regulatory initiatives and proceedings that have influenced the general development of our business in the two-year period ending on December 31, 2012.

This section describes BCE's and Bell Canada's securities, the trading of certain of such securities on the Toronto Stock Exchange and the ratings that certain rating agencies have attributed to BCE's preferred shares and Bell Canada's debt securities that are issued and outstanding.

5.1 BCE SECURITIES

BCE PREFERRED SHARES, COMMON SHARES AND CLASS B SHARES

BCE's articles of amalgamation, as amended, provide for an unlimited number of common shares, an unlimited number of first preferred shares issuable in series, an unlimited number of second preferred shares also issuable in series and an unlimited number of Class B shares.

Each common share entitles its holder to one vote at any meeting of shareholders. Additional information about the terms and conditions of the BCE preferred shares, common shares and Class B shares can be found under note 24 – Share Capital of the BCE 2013 financial statements on pages 145 and 146 of the BCE 2013 Annual Report, which note is incorporated by reference herein.

Since 1993, the Telecommunications Act and associated regulations (Telecom Regulations) have governed Canadian ownership and control of Canadian telecommunications carriers. Bell Canada and other affiliates of BCE that are Canadian carriers are subject to this Act. In 2012, amendments to the Telecommunications Act largely eliminated the foreign ownership restrictions for any carrier that, with its affiliates, has annual revenues from the provision of telecommunications services in Canada that represent less than 10% of the total annual revenues from the provision of these services in Canada, as determined by the CRTC. However, given that Bell Canada and its affiliates exceed this 10% threshold, they remain subject to the pre-existing Canadian ownership and control restrictions, which are detailed below.

Under the Telecommunications Act, in order for a corporation to operate as a Canadian common carrier, the following conditions have to be met:

- Canadians own at least 80% of its voting shares
- at least 80% of the members of the carrier company's board of directors are Canadians
- the carrier company is not controlled by non-Canadians

In addition, where a parent company (Carrier holding company) owns at least 66 2/3% of the voting shares of the carrier company, the Carrier holding company must have at least 66 2/3% of its voting shares owned by Canadians and must not be controlled by non-Canadians. BCE is a Carrier holding company. The Telecom Regulations give certain powers to the CRTC and to Canadian carriers and Carrier holding companies to monitor and control the level of non-Canadian ownership of voting shares to ensure compliance with the Telecommunications Act. Accordingly, BCE, which controls Bell Canada and other Canadian carriers, must satisfy the following conditions:

- Canadians own at least 66 2/3% of its voting shares
- it is not controlled by non-Canadians

The powers under the Telecom Regulations include the right to:

- suspend the voting rights attached to shares considered to be owned or controlled by non-Canadians
- refuse to register a transfer of voting shares to a non-Canadian
- force a non-Canadian to sell his or her voting shares
- suspend the voting rights attached to that person's shares, if that person's holdings would affect our status as "Canadian" under the Telecommunications Act

However, in our case, there is an additional control restriction under the Bell Canada Act. Prior approval by the CRTC is necessary for any sale or other disposal of Bell Canada's voting shares unless BCE retains at least 80% of all Bell Canada voting shares.

Similarly, the Canadian ownership rules under the Broadcasting Act for broadcasting licensees, such as Bell ExpressVu, Bell Media and Bell Canada (in its capacity as the licensee of Bell Fibe TV distribution systems in Ontario and Québec) generally mirror the rules for Canadian owned and controlled common carriers by restricting allowable foreign investments in voting shares at the licensee operating company level to a maximum of 20% and at the holding company level to a maximum of 33 1/3%. An additional requirement under these Canadian ownership rules is that the chief executive officer of a company that is a licensed broadcasting undertaking must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada. The CRTC is precluded under a direction issued under the Broadcasting Act from issuing, amending or reviewing a broadcasting licence of an applicant that does not satisfy these Canadian ownership criteria.

Cultural concerns over increased foreign control of broadcasting activities lie behind an additional restriction that prevents the holding company of a broadcasting licensee that exceeds the former 20% limit (or its directors) from exercising control or influence over any programming decisions of a subsidiary licensee. In line with CRTC practice, programming committees have been established within the relevant subsidiary licensees, thereby allowing foreign investment in voting shares of BCE to reach the maximum of 33 1/3%.

We monitor the level of non-Canadian ownership of BCE's common shares by obtaining data on (i) registered shareholders from our transfer agent and registrar, CST Trust Company (CST), and (ii) beneficial shareholders from the Canadian Depository for Securities (CDS) and the Depository Trust Company (DTC) in the United States. We also provide periodic reports to the CRTC.

BCE DEBT SECURITIES

As of March 6, 2014, BCE had no debt securities outstanding.

5.2 BELL CANADA DEBT SECURITIES

Bell Canada has issued long-term debt securities as summarized in the table below.

	WEIGHTED AVERAGE INTEREST RATE	MATURITY	AT DECEMBER 31, 2013 (IN $ MILLIONS)
Debentures
1997 trust indenture	4.39%	2015-2035	9,350
1976 trust indenture	9.54%	2021-2054	1,100
Subordinated debentures	8.21%	2026-2031	275
Total	5.01%		10,725

On February 11, 2013, Bell Canada redeemed, prior to maturity, all of its outstanding $149,641,000 principal amount of 10% Debentures, Series EA, due June 15, 2014 at a price equal to $1,113.389 per $1,000 of principal amount of debenture plus $15.890 of accrued and unpaid interest. On August 9, 2013, Bell Canada redeemed, prior to maturity, all of its outstanding $1 billion principal amount of 4.85% Debentures, Series M-20, due June 30, 2014 at a price equal to $1,027.874 per $1,000 of principal amount of debenture plus $5.315 of accrued and unpaid interest.

The Bell Canada debentures are unsecured and have been guaranteed by BCE. Additional information about the terms and conditions of the Bell Canada debentures can be found under note 20 – Long-Term Debt of the BCE 2013 financial statements on pages 136 and 137 of the BCE 2013 Annual Report, which note is incorporated by reference herein.

Under its shelf prospectus (2011 Shelf Prospectus) and prospectus supplement (2012 Prospectus Supplement) dated August 15, 2011 and June 13, 2012, respectively, Bell Canada could issue until September 15, 2013, up to $3 billion of unsecured medium-term debentures (MTN Debentures). On March 22, 2013, Bell Canada issued, under the 2011 Shelf Prospectus and 2012 Prospectus Supplement, $1 billion of 3.35% MTN Debentures, Series M-26, due March 22, 2023 (Series M-26 MTN Debentures), at a price of $99.831 per $100 principal amount. Having already issued $1 billion of MTN Debentures in 2012, only $1 billion of capacity remained under Bell Canada's 2011 Shelf Prospectus and 2012 Prospectus Supplement subsequent to the issue of the Series M-26 MTN Debentures.

To provide Bell Canada with financial flexibility and efficient access to the Canadian and U.S. capital markets, on May 17, 2013, Bell Canada filed with the Canadian provincial securities regulatory authorities and with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission a new shelf prospectus (New Shelf Prospectus) under which Bell Canada may issue, over a 25-month period, up to $4 billion of unsecured debt securities. On June 12, 2013, Bell Canada filed a new prospectus supplement (New Prospectus Supplement) for the issue of up to $4 billion of MTN Debentures under the New Shelf Prospectus. The New Shelf Prospectus and New Prospectus Supplement effectively replaced the 2011 Shelf Prospectus and 2012 Prospectus Supplement. On June 17, 2013, Bell Canada issued, under the New Shelf Prospectus and New Prospectus Supplement, $1 billion of 3.25% MTN Debentures, Series M-27, due June 17, 2020, at a price of $99.925 per $100 principal amount. On September 10, 2013, Bell Canada issued, under the New Shelf Prospectus and New Prospectus Supplement, $1 billion of MTN Debentures, Series M-28 and Series M-29. The $400 million 3.50% MTN Debentures, Series M-28, due September 10, 2018 were issued at a price of $99.941 per $100 principal amount, and the $600 million 4.70% MTN Debentures, Series M-29, due September 11, 2023 were issued at a price of $99.897 per $100 principal amount.

Certain of Bell Canada's trust indentures impose covenants which place limitations on the issuance of additional debt with a maturity date exceeding one year based on certain tests related to interest and asset coverage. In addition, Bell Canada is required, under certain conditions, to make an offer to repurchase all or, at the option of the holder thereof, any part of certain series of its debentures, upon the occurrence of both a "Change of Control" of BCE or Bell Canada and a "Rating Event" relating to the relevant series of debentures. "Change of Control" and "Rating Event" are defined in the terms and conditions of the relevant series of debentures. Bell Canada is in compliance with all conditions and restrictions of its debt securities.

Bell Canada may issue short-term notes under its commercial paper program up to the amount of $2 billion provided that such amount at any time may not exceed the amount available under its supporting committed lines of credit. The total amount of its supporting committed lines of credit available at March 6, 2014 was $2,500 million. Bell Canada had $1,262 million of commercial paper outstanding at March 6, 2014.

5.3 RATINGS

Ratings generally address the ability of a company to repay principal and pay interest or dividends on issued and outstanding securities.

Our ability to raise financing depends on our ability to access the public equity and debt capital markets as well as the bank credit market. Our ability to access such markets and the cost and amount of funding available depend partly on the quality of our credit ratings at the time capital is raised. Investment grade ratings usually mean that when we borrow money, we qualify for lower interest rates than companies that have ratings lower than investment grade. A ratings downgrade could result in adverse consequences for our funding capacity or our ability to access the capital markets.

As of March 6, 2014, BCE's preferred shares and Bell Canada's debt securities are rated by the following rating agencies:

- DBRS Limited (DBRS)

- Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (Moody's)
- Standard & Poor's Ratings Services (S&P)

This section describes the credit ratings, as of March 6, 2014, for certain of the issued and outstanding securities of BCE and Bell Canada. These ratings provide investors with an independent measure of credit quality of an issue of securities. However, they are not recommendations to buy, sell or hold any of the securities referred to below, and they may be revised or withdrawn at any time by the assigning rating agency. Each credit rating should be evaluated independently of any other credit rating.

In the last two years, we have paid rating agencies to assign ratings to BCE's preferred shares as well as Bell Canada's short-term and long-term debt securities. The fees paid to DBRS and S&P include access to their website. We further paid DBRS and Moody's to assign ratings in connection with Bell Canada's accounts receivables program.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

SHORT-TERM DEBT SECURITIES

The table below shows the range of credit ratings that each rating agency assigns to short-term debt instruments.

	HIGHEST QUALITY OF SECURITIES RATED	LOWEST QUALITY OF SECURITIES RATED
DBRS	R-1 (high)	D
Moody's	P-1	NP
S&P	A-1 (high)	D

The DBRS short-term debt rating scale provides an opinion on the risk that a borrower will not meet its short-term financial obligations in a timely manner. Ratings are based on quantitative and qualitative considerations relevant to the borrowing entity.

Moody's short-term debt ratings are Moody's opinions of the ability of issuers to meet short-term financial obligations. Short-term ratings are assigned to obligations with an original maturity of 13 months or less and reflect the likelihood of a default on contractually promised payments.

A S&P short-term debt rating indicates S&P's assessment of whether the company can meet the financial commitments of a specific commercial paper program or other short-term financial instrument, compared to the debt servicing and repayment capacity of other companies in Canada's financial markets.

LONG-TERM DEBT SECURITIES

The table below shows the range of credit ratings that each rating agency assigns to long-term debt instruments.

Moody's	Aaa	C

The DBRS long-term debt rating scale provides an opinion on the risk of default. That is, the risk that an issuer will fail to satisfy its financial obligations in accordance with the terms under which an obligation has been issued. Ratings are based on quantitative and qualitative considerations relevant to the borrowing entity.

Moody's long-term debt ratings are assigned to issuers or obligations with an original maturity of one year or more and reflect both the likelihood of a default on contractually promised payments and the expected financial loss suffered in the event of default.

S&P's long-term debt credit rating scale provides an assessment of the creditworthiness of a company in meeting a specific financial obligation, a specific class of financial obligations, or a specific financial program. It takes into consideration the likelihood of payment, i.e. the capacity and willingness of the company to meet its financial commitment on an obligation according to the terms of the obligation, among other factors.

PREFERRED SHARES

The table below describes the range of credit ratings that each rating agency assigns to preferred shares.

DBRS	Pfd-1 (high)	D

The DBRS preferred share rating scale indicates its assessment of the risk that a borrower may not be able to meet its full obligation to pay dividends and principal in a timely manner. Every DBRS rating is based on quantitative and qualitative considerations relevant to the borrowing entity.

S&P's preferred share rating is an assessment of the creditworthiness of a company in meeting a specific preferred share obligation issued in the Canadian market, compared to preferred shares issued by other issuers in the Canadian market.

OUR DIVIDEND POLICY

The board of directors of BCE reviews from time to time the adequacy of BCE's common share dividend policy. On February 6, 2013, the board of directors modified BCE's common share dividend policy from a policy with a target dividend payout ratio of 65% to 75% of earnings per share (EPS) before restructuring and other items and net (gains) losses on investments (Adjusted EPS) to a policy with a target dividend payout ratio of 65% to 75% of free cash flow⁽¹⁾. This modification to BCE's dividend policy was adopted as a result of the new International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) accounting standard for defined benefit pension plan expense which has a significant non-cash impact on Adjusted EPS. BCE now reports its dividend payout ratio on the basis of free cash flow as it is better aligned with the payment of cash dividends.

BCE's dividend policy and the declaration of dividends are subject to the discretion of BCE's board of directors and, consequently, there can be no guarantee that BCE's dividend policy will be maintained or that dividends will be declared.

The table below describes the increases in BCE's common share dividend starting with the quarterly dividend payable on April 15, 2011.

DATE OF ANNOUNCEMENT	AMOUNT OF INCREASE	EFFECTIVE TIME
December 10, 2010	7.7% (from $1.83 per share to $1.97 per share)	Quarterly dividend payable on April 15, 2011

December 8, 2011	4.8% (from $2.07 per share to $2.17 per share)	Quarterly dividend payable on April 15, 2012
August 8, 2012	4.6% (from $2.17 per share to $2.27 per share)	Quarterly dividend payable on October 15, 2012

February 6, 2014	6.0% (from $2.33 per share to $2.47 per share)	Quarterly dividend payable on April 15, 2014

PURPORTED CLASS ACTION CONCERNING CELLULAR USAGE AND BRAIN TUMOURS

In July 2013, BCE Inc., Bell Canada, Bell Mobility and Bell Aliant Inc. were served with a statement of claim previously filed pursuant to the Class Proceedings Act (British Columbia) in the Supreme Court of British Columbia. The action was brought against more than 25 defendants including wireless carriers and device manufacturers and seeks certification of a national class encompassing all persons in Canada, including their estates and spouses, who have used cellular phones next to their heads for a total of at least 1,600 hours. The purported class action also seeks certification of a subclass of such persons who have been diagnosed with a brain tumour (as well as their estates and spouses). The statement of claim alleges that the defendants that are wireless carriers are liable to the purported class on the basis of, among other things, negligence in the design and testing of cellular phones, failure to warn about the health risks associated with cellular phones, negligent misrepresentation, deceit, breach of warranty, and breach of competition, consumer protection and trade practices legislation. The plaintiffs seek unspecified damages, including reimbursement of defendants' revenue earned from selling cellular phones to class members, and punitive damages. The lawsuit has not yet been certified as a class action.

MEDIATUBE LAWSUIT

On April 23, 2013, a claim was filed in the Federal Court against Bell Canada and Bell Aliant LP by MediaTube Corp. and NorthVu Inc. The claim alleges that the defendants, through their development and use of IPTV systems, infringed on a patent owned by NorthVu Inc. and licensed to MediaTube Corp. In addition to declaratory and injunctive relief, the plaintiffs seek damages in the form of unpaid royalties in relation to the defendants' revenues from their IPTV services (the plaintiffs estimate the monetary value of these royalties by the time of trial will exceed $350 million) or an accounting of the defendants' profits, as well as punitive damages. The defendants intend to exercise all available indemnity recourses from third parties that provide the intellectual property upon which the defendants' IPTV services are based.

CLASS ACTION CONCERNING INCREASE TO LATE PAYMENT CHARGES

On October 28, 2010, a motion to obtain the authorization to institute a class action was filed in the Québec Superior Court against Bell Canada and Bell Mobility on behalf of all physical persons and companies of 50 employees or less in Canada who were billed late payment charges since June 2010. The plaintiff alleges that the increase by Bell Canada and Bell Mobility of the late payment charge imposed on customers who fail to pay their invoices by the due date from 2% to 3% per month is invalid. The action seeks an order requiring Bell Canada and Bell Mobility to repay all late payment charges in excess of 2% per month to the members of the class. In addition to the reimbursement of such amounts, the action also seeks payment of general and punitive damages by Bell Canada and Bell Mobility.

On December 16, 2011, the court authorized the action but limited the class members to residents of the province of Québec with respect to home phone, wireless and Internet services.

On January 10, 2012, another motion to obtain the authorization to institute a class action was filed in the Québec Superior Court against Bell ExpressVu with respect to TV services. The plaintiff seeks authorization to file a class action based on a cause of action alleged to be identical to the one described in the motion filed on October 28, 2010. On December 10, 2013, the motion was amended to, among other matters, add Bell Canada as defendant.

PURPORTED CLASS ACTION CONCERNING DIVIDENDS

On June 30, 2007, BCE Inc. announced that it had entered into a definitive agreement (the Definitive Agreement) providing for the proposed acquisition of all of the outstanding common and preferred equity of BCE Inc. (the Privatization) by a corporation owned by an investor group led by Teachers' Private Capital, the private investment arm of Teachers', and affiliates of Providence Equity Partners Inc., Madison Dearborn and Merrill Lynch Global Private Equity (the Purchaser). On July 4, 2008, the Definitive Agreement was amended to, amongst other things, extend the outside date of the transaction and provide that BCE Inc. would not pay dividends on its common shares until completion of the Privatization. On December 11, 2008, BCE Inc. announced that the proposed Privatization would not proceed.

On October 24, 2008, a statement of claim was filed under The Class Actions Act (Saskatchewan) in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench against BCE Inc., the Purchaser and its guarantors (Teachers' and affiliates of Providence Equity Partners Inc. and Madison Dearborn, collectively, the Guarantors) on behalf of persons or entities who held common shares of BCE Inc. between August 8, 2007 and July 4, 2008. The plaintiffs allege, among other things, that by suspending the payment of dividends to common shareholders, and amending the Definitive Agreement without shareholder approval, BCE Inc. violated its by-laws and articles, its dividend policy, the Definitive Agreement, the Canada Business Corporations Act and the March 7, 2008 order of the Québec Superior Court approving the plan of arrangement of BCE Inc. giving effect to the proposed Privatization. The plaintiffs also allege that BCE Inc. acted in an oppressive manner. The action seeks, among other things and in addition to unquantified damages, the payment of dividends for the second and third quarters of 2008. The statement of claim alleges that class members have suffered damages of at least $588 million.

On October 15, 2009, BCE Inc. brought a motion to strike the statement of claim. On December 23, 2009, the plaintiffs filed an application seeking, among other things, leave to amend the statement of claim and commence a claim under the secondary market disclosure provisions of The Securities Act (Saskatchewan) and certification of the action as a class action. The lawsuit has not yet been certified as a class action.

PURPORTED CLASS ACTIONS CONCERNING ROUNDING UP OF MINUTES

On July 25, 2008, a class action was filed against BCE Inc. in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice on behalf of all its residential long distance customers in Canada who, since July 2002, have had their call times rounded up to the next full minute for billing purposes (the First Rounding Up Action). On August 18, 2008, a similar class action (the Second Rounding Up Action) was filed against Bell Mobility in the same court on behalf of all Canadian Bell Mobility customers who, since July 2002, have had their airtime rounded up to the next full minute.

Both actions allege that BCE Inc. and Bell Mobility misrepresented and did not disclose that they round up to the next full minute when calculating long distance call time or wireless airtime. The class actions would, if certified, seek reimbursement of all amounts received by BCE Inc. and Bell Mobility as a result of the rounded-up portion of per minute charges for residential long distance calls and wireless airtime. Each action originally claimed general damages of $20 million, costs of $1 million for administering the distribution of damages, and $5 million in punitive damages.

On January 15, 2014, the Second Rounding Up Action was amended to include an allegation of breach of contract and increase claimed general damages to $500 million and claimed punitive damages to $20 million, without setting out the basis for the increases. The lawsuits have not yet been certified as class actions.

PURPORTED CLASS ACTION CONCERNING 911 FEES

On June 26, 2008, a statement of claim was filed under The Class Actions Act (Saskatchewan) in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench against communications service providers, including Bell Mobility and Bell Aliant LP, on behalf of certain alleged customers. The action also named BCE Inc. and Bell Canada as defendants. The statement of claim alleges, among other things, breach of contract and duty to inform, deceit, misrepresentation and collusion, in connection with certain "911 fees" invoiced by communications service providers to their customers. The plaintiffs seek unspecified damages and punitive damages. The action seeks certification of a national class encompassing all customers of communications service providers wherever resident in Canada. On July 22, 2013, the plaintiffs delivered an amended statement of claim which removed BCE Inc. and Bell Canada as defendants, and added claims for unjust enrichment and breaches of provincial consumer protection legislation and the Competition Act. The lawsuit has not yet been certified as a class action.

VIDÉOTRON LAWSUIT

On August 31, 2005, a motion to institute legal proceedings was filed in the Québec Superior Court against Bell ExpressVu by Vidéotron Itée, Vidéotron (Régional) Itée and CF Cable TV Inc. (a subsidiary of Vidéotron Itée). The claim was for an initial amount of $374 million in damages, plus interest and costs. In the statement of claim, the plaintiffs alleged that Bell ExpressVu had failed to adequately protect its system against signal piracy, thereby depriving the plaintiffs of subscribers who, but for their alleged ability to pirate Bell ExpressVu's signal, would have subscribed to plaintiffs' services. On July 23, 2012, the court issued a judgment pursuant to which it did not find Bell ExpressVu at fault in its overall efforts to fight signal piracy but concluded that the complete smart card swap it undertook should have been completed earlier. In this regard, the court granted the plaintiffs damages of $339,000, plus interest and costs.

The plaintiffs are appealing to the Québec Court of Appeal the quantum of damages awarded by the trial judge and are now seeking damages in the amount of $164.5 million, plus costs, interest and an additional indemnity. Bell ExpressVu has also filed with the Québec Court of Appeal an appeal of the lower court decision on its finding of liability. The appeals will be heard in May 2014.

CLASS ACTION CONCERNING WIRELESS SYSTEM ACCESS FEES

On August 9, 2004, a statement of claim was filed under The Class Actions Act (Saskatchewan) in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench against wireless service providers, including Bell Mobility and Aliant Telecom Inc., on behalf of certain alleged customers (the Initial Action). This statement of claim alleges, among other things, breach of contract and duty to inform, deceit, misrepresentation, unjust enrichment and collusion, in connection with certain system access fees invoiced by wireless communications service providers to their customers. The plaintiffs are seeking unspecified general and punitive damages.

On September 17, 2007, the court granted certification, on the ground of unjust enrichment only, of a national class encompassing all customers of the defendant wireless communications service providers wherever resident in Canada. This decision was maintained by the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal and leave to the Supreme Court of Canada was denied. Accordingly, the Initial Action is now proceeding as a national class action on the merits against the defendants on the basis of an opt-out class in Saskatchewan and an opt-in class elsewhere in Canada.

On July 27, 2009, a new statement of claim was filed under The Class Actions Act (Saskatchewan) in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench against wireless service providers, including Bell Mobility and members of the Bell Aliant group, on behalf of certain alleged customers (the Second Action). The statement of claim for the Second Action is based on alleged facts similar to those in the Initial Action. On December 22, 2009, the court stayed the Second Action upon an application by defendants to dismiss it as an abuse of process. On March 9, 2010, the plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to appeal that decision to the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal. This application was adjourned pending the outcome of the Initial Action.

On December 16, 2011, a new proceeding was filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia against several telecommunication service providers, including BCE Inc. and Bell Mobility. The claim is similar to the Initial Action. The relief sought includes an injunction restraining the alleged misrepresentation, an order for restoration or disgorgement of the system access fee's revenue and punitive damages. On August 27, 2013, the plaintiff discontinued the proceeding against BCE Inc. only. The certification motion is scheduled to be heard in April 2014.

This conclusion was based on the following:

- he is retired and is not involved in professional activities other than serving on various public corporations' boards of directors and audit committees
- he has extensive accounting and financial knowledge and experience, which served the best interests of BCE
- he made valuable contributions to BCE's Audit Committee

PRE-APPROVAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

BCE's Auditor Independence Policy is a comprehensive policy governing all aspects of our relationship with the external auditors, including:

- establishing a process for determining whether various audit and other services provided by the external auditors affect their independence
- identifying the services that the external auditors may and may not provide to BCE and its subsidiaries
- pre-approving all services to be provided by the external auditors of BCE and its subsidiaries
- establishing a process outlining procedures when hiring current or former personnel of the external auditors in a financial oversight role to ensure auditor independence is maintained

In particular, the policy specifies that:

- the external auditors cannot be hired to provide any services falling within the prohibited services category, such as bookkeeping, financial information system design and implementation and legal services

- for all audit or non-audit services falling within the permitted services category (such as prospectus, due diligence and non-statutory audits), a request for approval must be submitted to the Audit Committee prior to engaging the external auditors
- specific permitted services however are pre-approved annually and quarterly by the audit committee and consequently only require approval by the Chief Financial Officer prior to engaging the external auditors
- at each regularly scheduled Audit Committee meeting, a summary of all fees billed by the external auditors by type of service is presented. This summary includes the details of fees incurred within the pre-approval amounts

The Auditor Independence Policy is available in the governance section of BCE's website at BCE.ca.
