Workplace Mental Health Leadership™ certificate program

Mandatory mental health training for all Bell people leaders and senior leaders (CP4+).

The Workplace Mental Health Leadership™ certificate program is a first of its kind and was developed in partnership with Queen's University and Shepell to equip Bell team leaders with a better understanding of mental health issues in the workplace and ways to provide support to their teams. Over the course of three modules, leaders will explore the ever-expanding business case for supporting workplace mental health.
